The GREEK PATHS OF CULTURE in Delphi!

The Greek Paths of Culture Programme: a project of ELLINIKI ETAIRIA - Society for the Environment and Cultural Heritage (ELLET), which gives new life to old paths, has won international acclaim:

“The Paths bring many Europeans to Greece, with positive impact on local economies.”

Placido Domingo

Making a start in Delphi:

Delphi – the “navel of the earth” – is a cultural landscape acknowledged around the world. ELLET, in conjunction with the Regional Authority of Central Greece, the Municipality of Delphi and Phthiotis Development Co, has planned a full network of routes in the area, to highlight its ancient history and more recent past, while promoting its natural environment, traditional settlements and local products!

- The “Delphi Trail” in cooperation with the European Ramblers Association, following the standards of the European Leading Quality Trails certification.
- The “National Resistance - Reconciliation” Path, which, in addition to its natural beauty, will mark a unique moment of World War II history, with the legendary sabotage of the Gorgopotamos bridge.
- A network of smaller footpaths in the wider area of Delphi.

With points of interest such as the remains of the route which took worshipers of Apollo from the port at Kirra to the Oracle at Delphi, the ancient olive grove (a UNESCO protected natural site), the remains of Ancient Chrissa, the traditional village of Chrisso, the Corycian Cave and many others, the network of paths in Delphi will have something to interest everyone!
